Michigan State University

ACADEMIC WOMEN’S FORUM

All faculty, academic staff, post-docs, librarians and graduate students who identify as women are cordially invited to participate in the inaugural meeting of the MSU Academic Women’s Forum. The forum has been created to provide a safe-space to connect, build community and explore issues that are relevant to the success, support and empowerment of academic women at MSU.

Tuesday, September 22, 2015

3:30PM—5:00PM
MSU Union Building,
Lake Ontario Room
(3rd Floor)

Over the course of the academic year, the forum will address topics chosen by the participants. Some topics already identified by academic women on campus include:

◊ Building social connections
◊ Navigating systems of power and privilege
◊ Connecting with existing campus and community support systems
◊ Balancing competing and conflicting roles and expectations experienced by women in academic life

To enroll as a participant in the MSU Academic Women’s Forum, send an email to: Health4U@msu.edu.